FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ATTO Technology Joins Adobe CS5 Production Premium Road Show

Providing High-Performance Storage Connectivity to Adobe Creative Professionals

Amherst, NY (May 18, 2010) – ATTO Technology, Inc., a global leader of storage connectivity and infrastructure solutions for data-intensive computing environments, joins the Adobe® Creative Suite® 5 Production Premium Road Show as a Silver Sponsor. During the seven city tour, ATTO will promote their line of ExpressSAS 6Gb/s & 3Gb/s SAS/SATA RAID and Host Bus Adapters and Celerity 8Gb/s Fibre Channel Host Bus Adapters as complimentary hardware to the new CS5 Production Premium Suite. ATTO Celerity Fibre Channel HBA's and ExpressSAS RAID and Host Bus Adapters are the preferred choice of creative professionals worldwide.

As a participant in Adobe's developer program, ATTO has worked to ensure interoperability with Adobe's latest Production Premium Suite focusing on support for the new 64-bit architecture. With Adobe's release of CS5 Production Premium, users can continue to look to ATTO for robust hardware, software, Windows® and Mac® 64-bit OS compatible drivers.

“ATTO reinforces its commitment to the creative market by joining the CS5 Production Premium Road Show. Adobe is a key industry partner, and ATTO is happy to support Adobe's efforts to educate and inform users about the new CS 5 Production Premium Suite.” states Tom Kolniak, Director of Product Marketing for ATTO.

The tour kicks off May 18th, in New York City and will wrap on June 10th in Los Angeles, with various regional stops in between. ATTO representatives will be on hand to exhibit and answer questions related to ATTO products and their use in Adobe environments.
