SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. – August 31, 2015 – ATTO Technology, Inc. today announced that Tim Klein, CEO, will be presenting at the annual Nexenta OpenSDx Summit, one of the technology industry's leading executive forums, on Thursday, September 3rd, at the St. Regis Hotel, in San Francisco. Attendees will hear insight from Jill Ellis, U.S. Woman's National Soccer Coach - World Cup 2015 Champions, Geoff Colvin, Senior Editor-at-Large and Author of "Humans Are Underrated", Pepper, the world's first humanoid robot designed to live with humans, as well as a full day of thought-provoking discussions on emerging Open Source and Software-Defined Data Center technologies and their ability to deliver innovation, business agility, and competitive advantage to the marketplace.

"We are honored to be joined by Tim Klein at our OpenSDx Summit this year," said Tarkan Maner, Chairman and CEO at Nexenta. "Just as in years past, our Summit is a tremendous platform for sharing disruptive ideas, solutions, success stories, and top-tier networking between leading tech insiders, investors and analysts. This year's Summit themes are focused around innovation, Open Source, Software-Defined Data Center and cloud services."

In addition to these keynotes and Klein, several top technology innovators will also be presenting at the event, including:

- Jane Silber, CEO, Canonical
- Alan Atkinson, VP/GM Dell Storage, Dell
- Elissa Murphy, CTO/EVP, GoDaddy
- Chris Mellor, Storage Reporter, The Register
